Mariner No. 2 Gives Man A Look At Venus

By FRANK CAREC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mariner 2, a miracle of U.S. space science, has given man his first close look at another planet.

For 42 minutes Friday it scanned Venus, flashing back 36 million miles the information that may unravel the secrets of the "veiled lady of the universe."

It was an incredible feat and excited scientists rejoiced.

The historic flyby came at 3 p.m. after a 109-day, 182 million-mile journey which began at a Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching pad.

At its nearest approach to Venus, the space laboratory was 21,100 miles from the planet, relatively at its doorstep.

Special monitoring devices began to probe the cloud-covered surface at 1:55 p.m. and were switched off at 2:37 p.m.

Then the craft was speeding toward the sun, after having come closer to a planet than any other space vehicle.

Mariner is expected to send pebble information about interplanetary space from as far out as 72 million miles from the earth. That's twice the distance it was from earth Friday after a long journey plagued by frequent troubles and even cliff-hanging doubts on the final dash.

The spacecraft's final destination will be an orbit around the sun, each lap taking 400 days, never coming closer than 40 million miles from the earth.

It will take days and possibly weeks for scientists to analyze and evaluate just what was found out by the electronic eyes of the 447-pound, gold and silver plated space messenger that rocketed from the earth Aug. 27.

But they hope, and expect, to get at least some clues to help resolve such vital questions as these:

1. Is Venus a vast, arid desert swept by dust storms, or a sea of water or oil, or a jungle teeming with some forms of life?

2. Is it surrounded by dangerous radiation belts, such as the earth has, thus demanding special precautions in any attempts to land men there?

3. How strong is her magnetic field, and how is her cloud-shrouded environment affected, if at all, by gaseous solar winds that carry particles from the sun at speeds up to 450 miles a second?

4. Are there breaks in the dense clouds that surround her?

The spacecraft, it is tentatively estimated, made its closest approach to Venus at ten seconds before 3 p.m. The target time had been 2:01 p.m.

And, as it headed toward that close contact, reporters at a Washington news conference heard its voice, relayed here from the Mariner project headquarters in Pasadena, Calif.

To most reporters, it had a chiming sound. Others thought it more like some celestial organ.

Dr. William Pickering, chief of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory of California Institute of Technology, a key figure in the Mariner venture, described it as "the music of the spheres."

Titan Workers Vote for Union

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Workers for the Martin-Marietta Corp. at Titan bases in Arkansas have voted for representation by the United Automobile Workers.

The vote was taken Wednesday, but results were not announced until Thursday. They showed 15 workers for UAW, 2 for a joint venture of three building trade unions and 10 for no union.

Martin-Marietta workers at Titan II bases in Kansas and Arizona voted for UAW representation by similar margins.

The joint venture was between the Teamsters, Electrical Workers and Operating Engineers.

The Martin-Marietta firm is installing missile controls and related equipment in underground silos at each of the 3-state locations. There will be 18 silos at each base.

Those in Arkansas are scattered over a 5-county area north of the Little Rock Air Force Base at Jacksonville.

The elections Wednesday were conducted by the National Labor Relations Board. The losing side will have five days to file objections. If there are no objections, the UAW will be certified as bargaining agent.

Church Plans a Housing Development

By ADRIENNE BLOCK
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A church here soon will open a $5.6-million housing development for elderly persons. It will not be an old folks' home in the usual sense. It is for older citizens who are young in spirit and outlook.

It is to be called the First Community Village—and it is smack in the center of the exclusive Upper Arlington suburb of Columbus—a location which caused difficulties in the beginning.

The village is being built under sponsorship of the 6,000-member First Community Church, an inter-denominational nonaffiliated local parish.

Dr. Otis Maxfield, senior minister of the church, said the village has been designed as a center for retired teachers, professional and business people.

"We want creative people, people who have something to offer," said Dr. Maxfield. "We want them to do things, to participate, to help others."

Again emphasizing that it is not to be a nursing home, Dr. Maxfield asserted: "We don't want to help these older persons become well-cared for vegetables."

"If religion has any validity, life is meaningful at 65, 75, or 80," added the Rev. James A. Biddle, minister-director of the village.

Another aspect of the village is the submergence within a community, rather than away from the flow of normal life.

There will be frequent transportation to downtown Columbus as well as an interplay of activities between the village and the entire city, he felt. Mr. Biddle said.

Rental fees include limited health care. Treatment for minor illnesses and ailments are included in the rentals and may be obtained at the village's own clinic and infirmary. Both are staffed with professional nurses.

Patients must retain their own physicians and if put to bed in the infirmary, they are charged $3 a day. Major surgical benefits are not included.

Although operated on a non-profit basis, Dr. Maxfield said, "No one is giving us a nonprofit mortgage."

He said the cost of paying the mortgage and interest and providing the services determined the rates.

The village will be able to serve just under 500 persons.

Attempts Suicide at Arkadelphia

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Thomas W. Bozeman, 33, of Atlanta, Ga., slashed his throat, wrists and chest with a spoon handle Thursday in an attempted suicide at the Clark County Jail in Arkadelphia.

Sheriff Royal Deaton said Bozeman, wanted in Dallas for jumping bond on a narcotics possession charge, was not hurt seriously.

Deaton said Bozeman was given emergency treatment at the jail then transferred to the State Hospital in Little Rock after he became violent and attacked police officers.

Bozeman was arrested Wednesday at a cafe near Arkadelphia after he telephone Deaton and asked that officers pick him up.

Bozeman claimed he had been put out of a car at the cafe by two men from Dallas, Tex., Deaton said.

Long Before There Was a Christmas, Holly Has Been Used as a Decoration

By MARY ANITA LASETER

The chicken-and-egg question of "which came first" is not asked concerning Christmas and the cheerful green sprigs with their own built-in armor that we call holly. We know that long before there was a Christmas, holly was used as decorations.

Men of ancient times regarded the continual green of holly, after the trees in the forest had withered with the cold, as nothing short of miraculous. As a result, all kinds of superstitious beliefs and practices arose regarding this plant with bright green leaves and colorful red berries.

The ancient Druids placed holly in their dwellings as a shelter for sylvan spirits threatened by frost and winter winds. The Romans sent gifts of holly to friends during the great December festivals of Saturn, and sometimes they planted holly to protect their property from lightning. (A kind of Roman lightning rod?)

Not only lightning, but other evils were supposedly warded off by this pretty plant with Christmas colors. Parsis of India was said to have thrown tea steeped from holly bark onto the faces of newborn children to protect them from the evil one.

Any time people described as "ancient" are mentioned, we end up talking about the Greeks. This is no exception. The Greeks got into the picture of superstitious beliefs concerning holly. They used to distribute holly as a sign that the recipient would have the foresight to overcome his troubles.

(None of these people had ever heard of patent medicines but some fast talking ancient auctioneer probably made a mint or conceived of wonder drugs, from holly with the slogan, "It's the Berries," or foreign words to that effect.)

It might come somewhat as a surprise that some superstitious beliefs regarding holly persist in modern times. Some Britons still consider it unlucky to introduce holly into a house before Christmas Eve. Others believe that if the leaves of holly brought into a home at Christmas are smooth rather than rough, the wife will rule the household the following year.

That poses a question for every red-blooded American husband as he helps his spouse decorate the mantle. "What did she mean when she said, 'These holly leaves are really SLICK'?"

U.S. Trend to Suppress Criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union said today there is a tendency the United States to suppress dissent and this hampers the country in its "contest with the hangers of totalitarianism."

Free inquiry into "legal, moral and social truth" is imperative to achieve lasting peace in an age when man has the power to destroy himself, the ACLU said in its 42nd annual report.

"The great tragedy of our 20th century resurrection of official orthodoxy and heresies, both social and theological, is their hopeless inconsistency with the achievement of such truth," wrote John J. Pemberton Jr., executive director.

"It may even now be too late for all of mankind to yield sufficient wisdom for the avoidance of annihilation. But the greatest wisdom to be found in our common inheritance has taught us that only in unlimited inquiry and unrestricted debate—the antithesis of official orthodoxy—is truth to be found."

The ACLU, composed of 1,000 members, describes itself as a watchdog against violations for civil liberties.

The report was released at a ceremony at the National Archives honoring Bill of Rights Day, which is Saturday. This marks the 171st anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution's Bill of Rights.

Red China To Call Meet Of Communists

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Red China said today its split with Moscow was worsening and accused Soviet Premier Khrushchev of the new Marxist crime of "capitulationism"—that is, giving in to the United States.

The Chinese leadership, in a 6,500-word policy statement spread out in the official Peking People's Daily, raked the Soviet Union for an "utterly outrageous" anti-Chinese campaign and revealed that it had proposed a meeting of all the world's Communist parties to try to heal the breach.

Khrushchev's sharp criticism of China before the Soviet parliament Wednesday, however, seemed to indicate that the door to reconciliation would be hard to open.

The Chinese statement heaped scorn on Khrushchev's new-found friendship for "that renegade to communism," President Tito of Yugoslavia, and it defended China's border war with India.

Tito, visiting Moscow at Khrushchev's invitation, told the Soviet parliament Wednesday that Soviet and Yugoslav points of view "on all major international questions coincide or are close to each other."

The Chinese struck back at attacks leveled in the recently ended Bulgarian, Czechoslovak, Hungarian and Italian party congresses, and admitted that its efforts had "failed to prevent the worsening of the situation."

The Chinese said they would refuse to buckle under to this "bludgeoning" and were sticking to their theories that communism should wage an all-out struggle against the United States rather than capitulate to it, as it indicated Russia had done over the Cuban crisis.

This ideological quarrel finds Russia, Yugoslavia and the East-European Reds arraigned against China, Albania and some of the Communist parties of Asia.

Referring to Khrushchev's Cuban missile retreat, the statement said he had been guilty of adventurism and capitulationism.

Defending China's war over the boundary with India, the statement said that China's use of force had brought about a ceasefire and an easing of the situation.

Then, in an obvious crack at Russia, it called on those who pretended to be neutral "while actually regarding the Indian reactionary group as their kinsmen," to examine their conscience.

All Aboard Brazilian Plane Safe

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Journal do Brasil radio reported that all 50 persons aboard a Brazilian air liner which went down in the wilds of Amazonas state early today survived. The broadcast said some were injured but that there were no deaths.

Earlier, the newspaper Jornal do Brasil quoted military sources in Manaus, capital of Amazonas, as saying no signs of life could be detected when the wreckage of the Panair do Brasil Constellation was spotted in a jungle clearing 18 miles from Manaus.

The Constellations had last been heard from at 3 a.m., six minutes before it was to have landed at Manaus, on a flight from Belem.

Air line officials said the plane carried 40 listed passengers and 3 babies, plus a crew of 7.

Most, if not all, were believed to be Brazilians.

Faubus Criticizes Welfare Program

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Wednesday night the national welfare program encourage idleness, laziness and sin and penalized honest, hardworking citizens.

Faubus said he had read about a New York woman drawing $1,500 a month to support 23 illegitimate children by 10 men.

He spoke at the 48th annual banquet of the Paragould Chamber of Commerce.

Criticism of welfare payments to women who have fostered several illegitimate children has been a favorite topic for Faubus for some time. He has called for a reform of the welfare program, but has offered no solution.

Quorum Court Can't Change Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A county quorum court does not have authority to change a tax millage voted by a city council, the attorney general's office said in an opinion today.

Philip McCorkle of Arkadelphia, secretary-treasurer of the Clark County Election Commission, asked for the opinion.

Asst. Atty. General Russell J. Wools advised McCorkle that the duty of the quorum court was limited to approving and levying the tax voted by the council.

Wools also wrote that it was not necessary to have a popular vote on the 5-mill tax.

Relief From Severe Cold Is Assured

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A prolonged siege of unseasonably cold and snowy weather in the eastern half of the nation appeared moderating in most areas today.

Abnormally cold weather persisted in Florida, which has been hit by the coldest weather in more than 70 years, causing millions of dollars damage to fruit and vegetable crops.

Temperatures this morning again dropped below freezing in northern Florida and into the 30s as far south as Miami. However, the readings were higher than Thursday when the mercury dropped into the teens, marking the state's worst freeze since 1893.

The severe pre-winter weather also has taken a heavy toll in lives—estimates were up to 150. Damage to property was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Snow squalls swept areas in the Northwest, already weary from more than a week of battling the wintry elements. The snow belt covered areas in Ohio, Indiana, Lower Michigan and western sections of New York State and Pennsylvania. Snow also fell in Western Maryland in some parts 58, New England.

In Florida, harvest hands left the winter-killed vegetable farms and moved into the citrus groves in an attempt to salvage something from the heavy freeze. Fruit growers planned a quick harvest of some of the citrus to convert to juice before rising temperatures deteriorated the frozen fruit.

The Florida Citrus Commission reported damage was heavier than in the winter of 1957-58 when 30 million boxes of fruit froze on the branches and 30,000 trees were killed.

The Weather Bureau said there was a general moderation of temperatures in most of the eastern half of the country. There were only a few sub-zero readings, in northern Minnesota, with -7 in International Falls the lowest. A cold pocket of air, with temperatures in the teens covered the snow-blanketed northeast region.

The snow blanket in northeastern Ohio, with falls continuing, measured up to 54 inches in the Ashtabula area. Highway crews were hampered in clearing highways because of the drifting snow.

A seven-mile stretch of freeway connecting Cleveland and Painesville was closed because of heavy drifts. A 40-mile speed limit was in effect on a 120-mile leg of the Ohio Turnpike from Pennsylvania westward.

In Cleveland, stalled, abandoned and parked cars have slowed the cleanup operations. Police said nine tow trucks have removed an average of 1,000 cars a day from the streets since last Friday.

He said the choice is between a no-tax-cut "chronic deficit of inertia" and a transitional tax-cut deficit reflecting "an investment in the future."

At one point, he quoted, approvingly, an economy plea by chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., a tax cut doubter who is chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation.

He noted a Mills statement that tax cuts must be accompanied by "increased control of the crises in expenditures." Added Kennedy: "This is precisely the course we intend to follow."

Kennedy made a 25-hour flying visit to New York to address the Economic Club and to participate in groundbreaking ceremonies Friday at the site of the official United States Pavilion at the 1964 New York World's Fair. He also attended a late evening dinner party at the home of his friend, Earl E. T. Smith, who was ambassador to Cuba in the Eisenhower administration.

The President was scheduled to return to Washington in mid-afternoon today.

Death of Folks Around Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Demarest Lloyd, 51, lawyer and administrative assistant to former President Harry S. Truman, died Tuesday of a stroke. Lloyd had been executive director of the Harry S. Truman Library Inc. in Washington since 1953 and handled financing for the library in Independence, Mo. Lloyd was born in New York City.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Rear Adm. Alexander R. Early, USN, Ret., 70, who served in two wars and held the Navy Cross and two Legion of Merit medals, died Monday. Early was chief of staff to the commandant 15th Naval District, in Seattle, at his retirement in 1949.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Antonio (Maria Rodriguez) Magnon, 74, known as "The First Lady of Mexico in Texas," died Monday. Mrs. Magnon, who was born in Mexico, founded San Antonio's Black and White Ball in 1933 to improve U.S.-Latin America relations. She came to Texas in 1913.

JFK Asks For Tax Cut To Boost Economy

By FRANK CORMIER

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy replied to congressional critics of his 1963 tax cut plan by arguing that lower taxes, tied to curbs on rising federal spending, offer the best chance of producing future budget surpluses.

Going before a black-tie audience of business leaders, Kennedy called Friday night for an early cut in both individual and corporate income taxes — without saying just how soon he would want the reductions to become effective. Omission of his earlier Jan. 1 target date seemed well-calculated.

The chief executive also urged a cut large enough "to do the job required" — to boost purchasing, production, employment, investment and economic growth in general. Again, he was not specific, saying he would rather wait until next month to give details.

Addressing some 3,000 members and guests of the Economic Club of New York, Kennedy declared: "This nation can afford to reduce taxes—we can afford a temporary deficit—but we cannot afford to do nothing."

In this fashion, he took direct issue with those congressional conservatives of both parties who contend that tax reduction next year would lead to a dangerously large federal deficit.

Presenting the contrary view, Kennedy said, "Budget deficits are not caused by wild-eyed spenders but by slow economic growth and periodic recessions." And he said the present tax system must bear much of the blame; that it "exerts too heavy a drag on growth."

Kennedy's audience was formally polite at the outset, applauding at what he must have considered the wrong places. His references to federal penny-pinching rather than his arguments for lower taxes.

The atmosphere changed dramatically, however, as the President moved into a 30-minute question and answer session following his address. At this juncture, he began drawing enthusiastic applause with arguments against such controversial ideas as easier credit and cutbacks in foreign aid.

In discussing taxes, the President said little that was new or startling. But he did serve notice that he would directly challenge the arguments of those taking a go-slow approach to tax reduction.

"It is increasingly clear," Kennedy said, "that no matter what party is in power, so long as our national security needs keep rising, an economy hampered by restrictive tax rates will never produce enough revenue to balance the budget—just as it will never produce enough jobs or enough profits."

He noted a Mills statement that tax cuts must be accompanied by "increased control of the crises in expenditures." Added Kennedy: "This is precisely the course we intend to follow."

Kennedy made a 25-hour flying visit to New York to address the Economic Club and to participate in groundbreaking ceremonies Friday at the site of the official United States Pavilion at the 1964 New York World's Fair. He also attended a late evening dinner party at the home of his friend, Earl E. T. Smith, who was ambassador to Cuba in the Eisenhower administration.

California Returns to Three R's

By BOB BARNES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It's noses to the grindstone for California school youngsters from now on—learn those three R's.

Dr. Max Rafferty, a blunt, twofisted foe of the "life adjustment" theory of education, becomes state superintendent of public instruction on Jan. 7.

What happens thereafter in one of the world's biggest school systems could influence school policies in the nation. Educators and millions of parents will be watching.

Progressive education, a trend throughout much of the country since the 30s, is on its way out in California.

It was doomed even before Rafferty's upset victory over Dr. Ralph Richardson in a campaign which saw liberal Democrats backing Richardson and conservative Republicans backing Rafferty.

But Rafferty will give it a mighty shove out the door. He has, perhaps somewhat to his surprise, strong backing for most of his ideas on the State Board of Education, even though 9 of the 10 members backed his opponent.

Rafferty believes in old-fashioned book learning, minus such frills as basket-weaving aimed at developing "the total child," as advocates put it.

What's in store for California school children if he gets his way? A stronger emphasis on subject matter. He calls it the "conservative revolution in education," or sometimes "education for survival."

It means, says Rafferty, education in depth.

Specifically, Rafferty advocates:

Use of the phonics system in teaching reading; stressing of the great heroes, stories and facts of American history from the first grade; encouraging youngsters to read the children's classics; abandonment of group psychological tests now given in many districts; scrapping of the terms "social studies" and "language arts" and a return to teaching of specific subjects such as geography and history; memorization and drill in subjects such as historical dates and names of great significance; the multiplication tables and number combinations; and passages from great works of prose and poetry; and teaching of basic principles of the American free enterprise system.

He is cool toward federal aid to education, strong on local control and believes teachers should be intellectual and cultural leaders in their communities.

There have been—and still are—peaceful integration attempts. Few have succeeded. Birmingham closed most of its public recreational facilities in the face of a federal court order to desegregate.

But since James H. Meredith entered the University of Mississippi, there have been signs in Alabama that the people are willing to fight the battle in the courts.

The Birmingham News, Alabama's largest newspaper, was the first to speak out editorially after the Mississippi riots. The News deplored the violence and called on state officials to prevent it in Alabama.

Since then, there have been these developments:

Oct. 20: The Decatur Daily asked Wallace supporters to urge him to change his plans to follow Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett's course.

Oct. 23: The Tuscaloosa News reported a group of businessmen resolved to seek law and order and leave integration fight to the courts.

Oct. 31: Frank A. Rose, president of the University of Alabama, said he had assurance from Gov. John Patterson and Wallace for state help in maintaining law and order.

Nov. 6: University trustees expressed determination that law and order must be maintained.

Nov. 10: University Alumni Council, official voice of 60,000 University of Alabama alumni, supported the trustees.

Dec. 3: State Democratic Chairman Roy Mayall told Birmingham Young Men's Business Club that he favors enforcing the law even if it means integration. He called for "a calm, restrained leadership."

Dec. 7: University of Alabama student legislature unanimously announced support of the trustees and school officials in their stand for law and order.

"I realize," Walt said, "that a child, even an illegitimate child, must be cared for."

Rep. Roy H. Gayyear of Benton County, a Baptist minister, flatly rejected the Illinois plan, but said "something should be done to discourage illegitimate births."

In Arkansas a child must be enrolled in school, if of school age before it can receive benefits. It must have lived in the state at least one year and if the mother has been deserted by the child's father, the mother must be willing to prosecute the father before she can receive welfare payments for the child.

Ala. Fears Violence in Race Trouble

By ROSS M. HAGEN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Dark clouds of potential racial upheaval are gathering again on Alabama's horizon, but this time there is a groundswell of public resistance to violence.

Responsible groups and high state officials, shaken by the bloodshed and disorder at the University of Mississippi, are making public proclamations for law and order.

Focal point of the current threat is the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa where three Negroes have applied for admission.

Whether they will attend classes is problematical, but the prospect of desegregating the institution has engendered a host of "law and order" resolutions.

Heretofore, it has been political suicide in Alabama even to suggest that the state yield to integration edicts, either by law or court order.

This doesn't mean that Alabama has surrendered. The No. 1 man, Gov.-elect George C. Wallace, pledged that he will prevent integration by whatever means necessary. It has been reported reliably that as one measure, the incoming governor will recruit a citizen's army—apart from the National Guard—and arm it "to protect states' rights."

In a speech in Birmingham, Wallace said he intended to test certain laws, indicating he would go to jail if necessary.

Alabama's modern history of integration attempts is replete with violence, ranging from burning a "Freedom Riders" bus to an attack on two Negroes who sat in a section usually reserved for white persons in Birmingham's Legion Field at the Georgia-Alabama football game.

There have been—and still are—peaceful integration attempts. Few have succeeded. Birmingham closed most of its public recreational facilities in the face of a federal court order to desegregate.

But since James H. Meredith entered the University of Mississippi, there have been signs in Alabama that the people are willing to fight the battle in the courts.

Nov. 6: University trustees expressed determination that law and order must be maintained.

Nov. 10: University Alumni Council, official voice of 60,000 University of Alabama alumni, supported the trustees.

Dec. 3: State Democratic Chairman Roy Mayall told Birmingham Young Men's Business Club that he favors enforcing the law even if it means integration. He called for "a calm, restrained leadership."

Dec. 7: University of Alabama student legislature unanimously announced support of the trustees and school officials in their stand for law and order.

"I realize," Walt said, "that a child, even an illegitimate child, must be cared for."

Rep. Roy H. Gayyear of Benton County, a Baptist minister, flatly rejected the Illinois plan, but said "something should be done to discourage illegitimate births."

In Arkansas a child must be enrolled in school, if of school age before it can receive benefits. It must have lived in the state at least one year and if the mother has been deserted by the child's father, the mother must be willing to prosecute the father before she can receive welfare payments for the child.

State Might Pay Half of Fair Exhibit

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval F. Faubus said today he would be willing for the state to put up $500,000 for an Arkansas exhibit at the 1964-65 World's Fair in New York if a similar amount can be raised through private sources.

Faubus said Winthrop Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, told him Tuesday that a push for private financing would be made.

Presumably, the World's Fair Commission, named by Faubus from a list of persons recommended by Rockefeller and Lambert Dial, chairman of the Publicity and Parks Commission, would direct the drive.

Total cost of the exhibit has been estimated at $1 million.

Faubus said he could make no assurance that the legislature would appropriate the amount, even with his approval.

Faubus said he and Rockefeller also discussed the budget of the AIDC but did not talk about the possibility that Rockefeller may leave the commission. Reports have circulated that Democratic friends of the governor have pressured him to get rid of Rockefeller because of Rockefeller's activity in behalf of the Republican Party.

Faubus said Rockefeller was principally interested in getting the AIDC's appropriation for extra help raised from the $10,000 recommended by the Legislative Council to $25,000. Faubus also had recommended $10,000.

Faubus said he would go along with this request. Most of the extra help money is spent for professional advisors.

The governor gave no reason for this change of mind but said, "If certain things happen, we'll need the extra money but I can't go into that now."

Asked why he had recommended $10,000 for extra help when the AIDC requested $25,000, Faubus said, "I think Rockefeller realizes they have been a little free in hiring extra help in the past."

Steinbeck Stories Make Fine Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The award of the Nobel Prize for literature to John Steinbeck in Stockholm this week brings to mind the impressive strings of movies that have been wrought from his works.

The selection of Steinbeck for writing's highest honor astounded some critics who claimed the rugged Californian was passe. This might surprise Steinbeck, who currently has the No. 1 best seller, "Travels With Charlie."

The films based on Steinbeck's novels would appear to strengthen the contention that he is an ace story teller. No other novelist has had so many distinguished motion pictures produced from his works.

Here are the well-remembered Steinbeck films:

"Grapes of Wrath" (Twentieth Century-Fox, 1940) was a screen classic, a film that captured the heart and feeling of the novelist's greatest work. It was made in the prime of John Ford's creative powers with a cast that was well high perfect. Particularly memorable world who has to get to work by 5:30 a.m.

Since mid-August Pat has been the distaff regular on NBC's "Today Show." That is the news-and-amuse program which, from 7 to 9 weekday mornings over much of the nation, gets the breadwinners on to the house on time and prepares the stay-at-homes for their chores.

Pat, a native of Salt Lake City, theoretically won her place on the "Today" panel with Hugh Downs, Jack Lescault and Frank Blair after a two-week try-out in July.

In fact, it was the second knocking of opportunity. NBC officials, who had seen her work in Little Rock, Ark., and St. Louis, Mo., were interested in having her join the show several years ago when Betsy Palmer quit to resume her acting career.

"I just couldn't leave St. Louis," she said, "because I had really just started there, with two weather shows."

She remained three years to talk of highs, lows, pressure systems and advising whether or not to carry umbrellas. Then the second bid came—and she accepted.

A bubbling, energetic soul, Pat thrives on a schedule which would kill a lesser female. A divorcee, she lives with her five children (three girls and two boys, between the ages of 17 and 10) in a big, old seven-bedroom house in a New York City suburb.

She adores her work, loves her colleagues, is thrilled to meet the great, the interesting and the off-beat characters who turn up on the show. Her idea of a perfect, restful weekend is to climb into a station wagon with all the children and take off for two days of skiing.

"I realize," Walt said, "that a child, even an illegitimate child, must be cared for."

Rep. Roy H. Gayyear of Benton County, a Baptist minister, flatly rejected the Illinois plan, but said "something should be done to discourage illegitimate births."

Why Can't His People Be Her People?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Last March I met a wonderful guy; great personality, fine manners, and excellent reputation. He is also handsome, has graduated from high school with good marks and is very active in sports, which he intends to make his career.

We dated secretly, being of different races, and this troubles us. We do not want to hurt our parents yet don't want to hurt ourselves any longer. We feel that you love a person for the type of person he or she is, not for the race.

We had planned to become engaged last July but I was not quite sure if it was the right thing to do, so we stopped seeing one another. I dated boys of my own race; I dated girls of my race. At the end of August he phoned to say he was moving to a different state to attend college. He also said he still cared.

I made no mention of my deep feeling for him. A few days ago he phoned again. Would I come down to see him? He would pay all expenses.

I am still in high school and plan to attend college. He attends college and, in addition, holds a part-time job. We both have been raised to make our own decisions. I feel that I am mature enough to know if I love someone and if it is the real and true love that is needed to make a successful marriage. We both have understanding, patience and active minds.

I live in an average-sized town, in a very large city. In my town it is considered very wrong to associate with people of a different race but where he lives it is quite a common thing. Why is it considered so wrong to marry out of your race? Why can't his people be mine and mine his? — My Own Mind

Dear My: The prejudices of race, color and religion are rooted in primitive antagonism. It's a relic from prehistoric times. Tribes fought tribe; nation fought nation. It's still going on.

In our own generation we have seen two world wars and several smaller ones fought for lack of understanding between countries. Knowledge, education, tolerance and forbearance are imperative if we are ever to work out a peaceful solution.

Certainly there is great agitation today over intermarriage between races. The majority of opinions as expressed in the United Nations and by the politically dominant party, insist that there be no barrier, socially, or economically, against any race, nationality or religion.

Nonetheless, this prejudice and feeling between races has not yet subsided nor reached a point where there is no friction. Young people who buck it encounter unpleasant experiences. Therefore, if you marry the boy, be prepared to face these conditions as a hazard of your marriage. Is your love strong enough to weather these adverse conditions?

Dear Helen: I would like to start a Women's Handicraft exchange in my home. Have you any suggestions? You mentioned two leaflets, "Women at Work," and "Turn Your Spare Time Into Cash." Would they be helpful? — R. H. Logan, Utah

Dear R. H.: Yes, I suggest you write America House, 44 West 53rd St., New York, N.Y., for additional pointers. This excellent organization handles the work of old, young, men, women and children across the country who are engaged in the creative arts. I might be able to help you further if you state the kind of articles you expect to handle, the size of your tentative showroom and what your approximate overhead will be. I am sending you "Women at Work" and "Turn Your Spare Time Into Cash" which may also prove helpful.

JFK Turning to Business Men for Aid

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy appears set today to turn to Congress who are getting their help he wants from these largely conservative men in dealing with conservative leaders of Congress who are getting their backs up over any tax cutting while the Treasury is running a deficit.

Business and the President have had their well-publicized difference this year. So he will have some underlying suspicions to allay when he talks here Friday night to the Economic Club of New York.

Many of the most important industrial and financial leaders of the nation will be in the audience. And many are critical of what they regard as the administration's less-than-ardent love for Big Business.

But on the question of tax cutting—if he talks about it as most of

Indian Plan Suggested by Mission
By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Military members of a U.S. mission that surveyed India's critical arms needs reportedly have recommended a three-stage aid plan that could last for years.

Beyond emergency patchup measures to bolster the outnumbered and outgunned Indians in their border dispute with Communist China, the U.S. experts were said to have proposed rebuilding steps for next year and fundamental modernization actions to continue perhaps for years ahead.

Dollar figures were kept secret, but there was informed speculation that it might cost $1 billion to bring India's outdated arms and military organization up to standard.

Emergency help rushed to India by this country so far was said by qualified sources to total

Hope Takes 2, Loses 1 Game To Spring Hill

By Carter Hardage
Friday night at Jones Field House, Hope took two games, but Springhill managed to down one Hope team. In the first game of the season for the Junior Girls the more experienced Springhill team blasted them by a 30-14 score. However, Hope's Lady Cats whipped Springhill 48-30 and the B Team beat Springhill's Seniors 59-48.

In the night's first game, the Junior Girls made their debut by losing to Springhill 30-14. They put up a good show against a more experienced team, but they couldn't quite make it. Becwy Lewis was high for the locals with 13 points. Janie Leonard also scored with 1 point.

In the second game, Hope's Lady Cats, led by Shirley Smith and Janice Lloyd, pounced on Springhill 48-30. The Lady Cats kept the lead for the entire game. Shirley Smith was again high with 19 points followed closely by Janice Lloyd with 17. Also scoring were Annette Hatfield 7 and Phyllis Martin with 5.

Hope's "B" Boys defeated Springhill Seniors 59-40. Hope led 27-21 at the half, and went on to beat the Bears without too much effort. High for Hope was Honeycutt with a big 23 points. Then came Jordan and Henley 9; Thrash 7; Reinhardt 6; McNatt and Wassell with 2; and Mayfield 1.

Monday, December 17, Hope meets the Arkadelphia Senior and Junior Boys. This will be a good game, so come out and give the Cats the support they deserve!

Some UN Members to Pay Share
By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Heartened by strong support for his appeal to U.N. members to pay their share of the Congo debt, Secretary-General U Thant summoned his advisory committee today to consider tough new steps against Katanga.

The 110-nation budgetary committee voted 75-17 with 14 abstentions to accept a World Court opinion that U.N. members are legally bound to pay assessments nearly $15 million. Gen. Paul D. Adams, chief of the U.S. Strike Command and senior military officer of the U.S. mission that returned recently from India, was said to have listed winter clothing as the first and most pressing need for India's fighting men. Many were rushed into the mountainous north still wearing light dress suitable to the heat of the lowlands.

Adams was described as deeply impressed with the caliber of the Indian troops and their officers. It was considered significant, U.S. sources said, that the Indian soldiers who were forced to retreat before heavy Chinese attacks often brought back their weapons. This indicated they were disciplined and not routed in panic.

The immediate need is to furnish light weapons and gear that can be carried on a soldier's back at high altitudes and in mountainous terrain.

India should have little trouble getting the pick of her manpower in expanding her 600,000-man army, U.S. sources said.

Because of the higher standard of living in India's armed forces than among the population as a whole, there are said to be about 300 applicants for each opening in the ranks.

A CONTRACT

A contract is a promise... a compact... an agreement between two or more persons. It simply binds the contracting parties to abide by the conditions set forth therein. It could be a marriage contract, or a business contract. It may be a contract with your church and your God. A contract is a serious piece of business. Do you fulfill the terms of the contracts you make? You promised to be true to your life partner until death. You signed to discharge your financial obligations on a certain date. You contracted to be a faithful member of your church... to attend regularly and support its work. Are you doing that? Do you honor your contract... your word? The integrity of your own soul determines the value of all the contracts you make. They are as good as you or as bad as you. Church attendance will help you prove yourself worthy of the confidence of both man and God. Attend every worship service.

So They May See == Psalm 84 == So They May Hear

HOW AMIABLE are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!

2. My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.

3. Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O Lord of hosts, my King, and my God.

4. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah.

5. Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee; in whose heart are the ways of them.

6. Who passing through the valley of Baca make it a well; the rain also filleth the pools.

THEY GO FROM strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.

8. O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.

9. Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.

10. For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

11. For the Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

12. O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.
